Tatts Group has had a long association with the South Australian branch of the Australian Hotels Association through its individual operating subsidiaries UBET (previously SA TAB), The Lott (formerly SA Lotteries) and Max (formerly Bytecraft). This has led to a recent decision to grow the partnership with the association by taking up a Platinum partnership. Formed in 2006 through a merger of Australia's oldest lottery operator, Tattersall's Limited and race wagering operator UBET – a company that has proudly operated the South Australian Totalisator Agency Board (TAB) Since 2001, Tatts now owns and operates the TABs in Queensland, Northern Territory, South Australia and Tasmania as well as every state lottery in Australia with the exception of Western Australia. In addition, Tatts' technical services capability through Bytecraft means it has the capability and manpower to service even the most remote locations in the state.

With operations in every state and territory in Australia, New Zealand and the United Kingdom we directly employ more than 3,000 staff. Our global footprint of 10,000 lottery outlets, TABs, hotel and club based operations, and adult gaming parlours (UK) makes us a leader not just in Australia, but around the world.
